Welcome to the ECO-BIA Website!

We are the East Central Ohio Building Industry Association, your local home builders association. We are affiliated with the Ohio Home Builders Association and the National Association of Home Builders. This website has been carefully designed to be your best local resource for the home construction consumer, ECO-BIA members and potential members.

For the consumer, whether you are looking for homebuilding resources, builder members, construction/service related vendors, or material suppliers, you will find this site a useful tool. See how to choose a builder. Look for home plans. Find related sites. Watch for special events such as our Parade of Homes and Spring Home and Garden Show.

For the ECO-BIA member, use this site for networking, advertising your company, checking out member services. Watch legislative issues locally, statewide and nationally. Make sure you provide us with a link to your website. Contact us with your questions and participate! Remember service works best when it happens both ways.

For the potential member: Check the member list for your related category. Not all categories are filled. Your consumer is using this website to find plumbers, cabinet makers, HVAC contractors, decking contractors and many more. To download a membership application form, from our home page, click on the not a member link on the left hand bottom corner. Ask how you can be sponsored to join.
